ABOUT US

Veltech Auto Part India Pvt. Ltd (formerly known as Veltech Engineering Works), a private limited company initiated by Suresh Kumar S (Managing Director), successfully marched towards its launch on November 22, 2002. Professional commitment and loyalty to customers had made us come all this way through, which would be religiously adhered to throughout the days to come. We are an ISO (International Organization for Standardization) 9001-2015-accredited company. Our work force consists of highly qualified personnel who are well versed in the state-of-the-art precision intricate CNC turning and milling components and pay attention to detail. We have employed well-experienced technical and professional personnel to produce high-quality products and also to look after the daily operations of the unit. Our plant, equipped with the latest technology, brings out precision-machined components of different shapes and sizes, and the choice of material is carefully worked out as per the needs of the customers. Our experience and technical capability to process any kind of engineering or machined component have been the hallmarks of our success. We at Veltech Auto Part India Pvt. Ltd. try to catch up to the needs and demands of our customers.
